

Class Project

The fastest way to learn the guitar is for you to make lots of mistakes, to have fun making them, and then to learn from them as fast as you can.

But, the fastest way to MASTER what you have learned is to teach it to somebody else.

Having said that you need first to be aware of those mistakes, and you need people to test your knowledge.

In this project, you will need to do 2 things to call it done:

1 Step out of your comfort zone and SHARE your playing with us.

just a few seconds will do the job so we can see if you are not making regretful mistakes, you will need to use the practice sessions video to play along with it until you feel comfortable to record yourself playing over it. just a few seconds, keep it between 20 and 30.

2 Comment on other people's videos with a Student mindset

The good thing about the internet is that people like to correct people, so if you make an indication of what you just learned more people will see it and if you are right you will be helping someone, but if you are wrong you and everybody in the group will be learning from all the bashing :)

Have a good day and enjoy the ride!

Fernando.
